Dear Sir:

I am taking the liberty of writing these few lines to you, informing you that I am about to apply for a Parole, at the meeting of the Hon. Pardon Board, which will convene on Dec. 19, 1924.

My sole reason for sending this to you, is to get a letter from you to the "Board of Pardons," to inform them that you don't object to my release. I think I have paid my debt for the wrong that I have done, and am fully capable of going out in the world, to redeem myself if given one chance. Enclosed you will find my application, and if you don't object I wish you would sign the same, and also enclose a letter in my behalf to the "Pardon Board." I hope this letter will enable you to understand my present attitude, and also for you to act favorably in my behalf. Believe me as.

Very sincerely yours,

Miles Berte #254
