

HOME LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF NEW YORK

DAVY & DENNE, GENERAL AGENTS,
306-7 NEWHOUSE BUILDING,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

June 10, 1924.

The Honorable Board of Pardons,
Capital Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Gentlemen:

I wish to advise that Mr. Ernest Whipperman who is applying for your consideration was employed as an agent for the Home Life Insurance Company of New York, during the year 1920, and while in that capacity collected considerable money. His dealings with the undersigned were entirely satisfactory and his integrity was all that could be desired.

I have known Mr. Whipperman for about five years, a part of this time intimately, from my business dealings with him and general knowledge of his character, environment, education and temperment believe that his incarceration and the disgrace attending it is sufficient punishment for the crime he is alleged to have committed.

He has a wife and small child dependent upon him for support and I believe he should be given a chance to rehabilitate himself.

Very truly yours,

Geo. W. Davy
