vision, he was one of the two men upon whom I could depend for the performance of any unusual duty, the custody of property belonging to the Company, and the intelligent and humane care of any sick or injured man. As to his work, when in line of duty, no day was too long, and no hesitation marked his performance of any disagreeable duty. I feel free to state that a number of residents of the Magna-Garfield area are alive today because of this man's efforts. and that that community, from an economic standpoint, is better off for his labors there.

Will you please submit this letter to the Utah State Board of Pardons at the meeting relative to consideration of the case of Mr. Whipperman?

Yours very truly,

Chas. J. Howard
