

Q You worked at American Fork? A. Yes sir.

Q What were you doing? A. Working on Utah Lake, with fish.

Q When was that? A. About four months ago.

Q You then went to Montana? A. Yes sir.

Q When did you come back? A. A little over a month ago.

Q And when did this burglary take place?

A I was arrested on the 17th of last month.

Q The 17th of February? A. Yes sir.

Q So you have been in jail practically ever since you came back from Montana? A. Yes sir.

Q Are your parents living? A. No sir.

Q You say they are not living? A. No sir.

Q Have you any relatives in this country? A. No sir.

Q I mean in this part of the country?

A I have only got a brother. He is somewhere on the waters.

Q Your father is dead? A. Yes sir.

Q Your mother is dead? A. Yes sir.

Q What have you been doing the last two or three years, for a living?

A Well, March the 16th, 1931, I joined the Navy. I was fifteen years old then, but I swore I was eighteen and got in the Navy and served two years, and since I come out I have been working one place and another-- in Arizona, California, here and in Montana.

Q What kind of work have you been doing?

A I worked in the mills at Almo, Arizona, for a mining company. I worked on a dairy in Yuma, Arizona. I worked for the Southern California Telephone Company at Los Angeles. I worked on a sheep ranch in Cascade, Montana.
