heavy burdens- Affiants further say that said wife is naturally of an uncomplaining nature- but has actually labored to near the point of physical exhaustion- in providing for her little ones, during the time her husband has been imprisoned in the State Prison.

Your affiants, fully believe and so allege, that the demands of the law and the ends of justice will be fully met should your honorable Board, exercise your clemency and mercy at this hour in releasing said Linus W. Hansen, on parole, or pardon, so that he may obtain work for and support his wife and little children-

From inquiry your affiants further say- that if said Hansen, could be released on parole at this time- there is employment awaiting him, in assisting to make cement blocks- which is an occupation he is familiar with and has labored in before.

In witness whereof our hands this 13th day of March A.D. 1925.
