

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: How many times have you slept in jail during this time?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Just once.

THE COURT: Where was that?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: San Diego.

THE COURT: What was that for?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Just for staying --

THE COURT: Were you around begging?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: For not having any place to stay.

THE COURT: You were a hobo?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: Have you done any work since you left home?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: What did you work at?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Washing dishes in Los Angeles until Christmas, and could not find any work since then.

THE COURT: So when you met these other two boys you decided to go east?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: You say you have never been in trouble before in your life?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No, sir.

THE COURT: How did you come to break into the store at Milford?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Cold that night and had no place to stay. We had no money and we had to go and do something.

THE COURT: Had to go and break into a store and steal something. Who suggested breaking into the store?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: The three of us did.
