

THE COURT: Who suggested it first? Did you?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No, sir. I dont remember who it was.

THE COURT: Did the white boy suggest it?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I dont remember who it was. I know it was not me.

THE COURT: You just as well tell the truth. You do know who suggested it. Now the court would like to know who it was that suggested it?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I dont know.

THE COURT: It will pay you to tell the truth. The reason I am questioning you at this time is to tell the people at the state penitentiary whether they should keep you there or give you some leniency. Who suggested to you to come east and leave Los Angeles?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Me and the other boy was going to stop at Las Vegas.

THE COURT: The white boy suggested going on east?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: How did you get into Milford? Come in on a box car?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I dont know for sure.

THE COURT: What time of night did you get in Milford?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Early. About five o'clock.

THE COURT: Did you try to get some work there?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No, it was too late.

THE COURT: You didnt go and hunt up the marshal to see if you could get a night's lodging?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No, sir.

THE COURT: You sat down and planned this robbery, or this
