

you to determine. If you desire, you may advise with an attorney to assist you in doing that.

THE DEFENDANT: Well, I desire to get it finished as quick as possible, because just as I said before, I have no one to verify any statement I would make.

THE COURT: Mr. King, have you time to talk with this gentleman a few minutes. It would be more satisfactory if he had counsel. The court will appoint you, and you may step into the side room.

~~MR. PARKER~~ [After an Interval]

THE COURT: Mr. Parker have you advised with the counsel appointed by the court to examine into your case, Mr. King?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

THE COURT: Are you now ready to state whether you wish--I refer again to the second count in the information against you which charges grand larceny, and does not charge burglary. Are you ready to plead now to that charge?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Do you want to ask further time?

THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

THE COURT: You are ready to plead now?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: What is your plea to the charge contained in this second count in this information, guilty or not guilty.

THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

THE COURT: Let the plea of guilty be entered. You
