

you put this bundle on for me. That is the way he met me, because I didn't know who he was.

THE COURT: He was a man standing there with a bundle?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: What became of him after you took the bundle?

THE DEFENDANT: I don't know. I told the sheriff out there that same time when the sheriff came, I says if you will go with me back up along the yards you can find him.

THE COURT: So that is how you got the bundle from this man?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. I couldn't prove it, because there was nobody there but the two.

THE COURT: How long did you have the bundle before you were arrested?

THE DEFENDANT: Possibly fifteen minutes I should judge.

THE COURT: Did you put it on the train somewhere?

THE DEFENDANT: I couldn't, I never got down to the train.

THE COURT: The train went without you, is that it?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Where were you when the sheriff arrested you?

THE DEFENDANT: Well the other man arrested me. The man with the shot gun arrested me, then he took me over to the sheriff.
