

Q Where did you take them to?

A Well, they was at the laundry, right out of Tooele.

Q How? A. At the laundry, right out of Tooele.

Q Did you take them to the laundry?

A Yes sir.

Q What for? A. Just, keep them there.

Q How? A. Just keep them there for a while.

Q Well, then what were you going to do with them, after that?

A Return them to her.

Q Didn't you have some purpose in taking them away, at all?

A No sir.

Q Are you sure of that? Absolutely no purpose in taking them away at all?

A No sir; I had no girl or any one to give them to, and those pillow-slips and sheets are not worth anything.

Q I cant understand such an attitude as that. You break into the house there, take those things away, and yet you say you you did not have any purpose ~~in~~ at all, any object, in taking them away, didn't know what you were going to do with them, didn't have any intention of doing anything with them; I cant understand that. Can you explain that at all?

A No sir.

Q You cant explain it? A. No sir.

MR. TOBIN: How old did you say you were?

A Twenty-one.

Q When were you twenty-one?

A Eleventh day of December.

THE COURT: I regret very much to have to pass sentence on a young man like you. It is always a hard thing to do. I would like if I could do something that would help
