

you along and turn you into paths of honor instead of conduct which I am sure, from your statement, you must have followed for sometime past. I hope that after the Court has sentenced you to the penitentiary and you have served whatever time the officers of the law shall fix, that you will see the error of your way, Mr. Flanigan, and try to become a useful citizen, instead of pursuing the course you have pursued so far. It never can lead to anything but disaster and ruin, and certainly never can result in anything good. While the law has for its purpose always the protection of society, it also has for its purpose the helping of people who have gone wrong but desire to do better. I want to admonish you, being a young man as you are, that you take a different view of life than that which you have had up to this time.

The judgment of the Court, Mr. Flanigan, is that you be confined in the State Prison of the State of Utah, at hard labor, under what is known as the Indeterminate Sentence Act of the State of Utah. I shall recommend such term as I think the justice of the case demands. In due time, after giving this matter consideration, I will make such recommendation; and in the meantime, you are remanded to the custody of the Sheriff of Tooele County, for the execution of this judgment.
