

say that the friendly relations existing between this man and woman would not appear to be very friendly, because she signed the complaint charging him with this offense. She came to the sheriff's office and identified everything in the suit-case as her property.

MR. TOBIN: You misunderstood me. I am not disputing you, that she did not sign the complaint, but I say that prior to the time of this alleged offense, that would be the natural inference of my remarks, that the defendant and this woman were on friendly terms. Haven't they been on friendly terms for several months?

MR. GORDON: Judge Tobin, I would not like to discuss that with you, because I don't think it is anything that could ^{come} ~~go~~ up in this court.

MR. TOBIN: This is for the Board of Pardons. I am just showing the relations of these parties prior to the commission of this offense. I am not disputing anything you say. This is only for the Board of Pardons.

THE COURT:

Q Mr. Flanigan, are you ready at this time for sentence to be imposed?
