

Q A roving notion? A. Yes sir.

Q When did you start that?

A One year ago; a little over, about thirteen months ago.

Q Did you leave Detroit thirteen months ago?

A Yes sir.

Q Where did you go? A. New Orleans, Texas,
Florida, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Kansas and all over.

Q How did you travel?

A Well, I rode freight trains.

Q Did you ever ride as a passenger, under ticket?

A Yes sir.

Q You have traveled that way too, have you? A. Sir?

Q You have traveled that way? A. Yes sir.

Q When did you come to Utah?

A About eight months ago.

Q Where were you? In what State were you before you came to Utah? A. Colorado.

Q How did you come from Colorado to Utah?

A Rode a freight train.

Q Where did you stop first in Utah?

A I think it was Thistle, Judge.

Q What did you do there?

A We got put off and had to walk to Provo; and I came to Salt
Lake. I got a ride, and then I went to work at the smelter.

Q Where were you headed for when you left Salt Lake?

A Los Angeles.

Q Did you have anything in view in Los Angeles?

A I have an aunt that lives there-- forty Brooks Avenue, Venice,
California.
