

He must be underground because the way he always spoke he was underground, he was working at the Black Rock too.

THE COURT: Runs a stationary engine, I take it?

THE DEFENDANT: I ain't sure what kind; I know he is an engineer, that is all he told me.

THE COURT: Who kept you in school, your uncle or your father?

THE DEFENDANT: My uncle.

THE COURT: And he paid your expenses?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes sir.

THE COURT: And clothing and that sort of thing?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes sir..

THE COURT: Where was it you attended school?

THE DEFENDANT: I went-- I graduated from the Vancouver B. C. I came to Butte and went to the Butte High School for a little over a year.

THE COURT: You graduated from Vancouver?

THE DEFENDANT: Vancouver, B. C.

THE COURT: Graduated from the high school there?

THE DEFENDANT: No, graduated from the eighth grade there. I came and went the 9th and 10th in the Butte high school, and then I took a scholarship at the Business college. I went there for about a half year.

THE COURT: Did you have any money when you got in Park City?

THE DEFENDANT: I had a dollar and a half, that was all.

THE COURT: How long had you been working at The Judge?
