Hon. Board of Pardons,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Gentlemen:-

On June 16, there will stand before you Walter Abington (Underwood) now confined in Utah State Prison. In judging him will you treat him as you would one of your own? Will you remember the long year he has lost out of precious life in payment for one hour of unconsidered folly? Will you not let that year of prison - a year of the best part of his life - buy him the chance that you alone can give? Will you remember that his punishment, tho' just, is shared by one who loves and believes in him still and that to her your word of release means future
