

(Information read to defendant by the clerk.)

The Court---Are you ready to enter a plea to that charge?

The Defendant---Yes, sir.

The Court---What is your plea?

The Defendant---Guilty.

The Court---Are you ready now to be sentenced?

The Defendant---Yes, sir.

The Court---The penalty for that offense, Miss Williams, would be an indeterminate sentence of one to twenty years. The Court will make a recommendation in the matter, of course. Have you anything to say regarding that?

The Defendant---No, sir.

The Court---The Court, then, will sentence you to the State Penitentiary to serve such time as may be determined by the Board of Pardons under the indeterminate sentence act of one to twenty years. Have you any recommendation, Mr. Hutchinson?

Mr. Hutchinson---I have been informed by the sheriff's office, and also by the defendant herself, that she is a victim of narcotics, and has been a user of narcotics for some two years, and she, of course, is very desirous of breaking the habit and really looks forward to confinement, and due to the fact that she is a user of narcotics, from what information I have concerning the case I would
