

THE COURT: Have you been in trouble in your life?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No, sir.

THE COURT: Never been in trouble before?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No,-- yes, I have been in jail for running around the country. In Los Angeles they got me there once.

THE COURT: Were you with these other two boys when they were put in jail?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: No, sir.

THE COURT: Where did you meet these boys?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: The Mexican boy in Yuma, and the other at Los Angeles, and I was working--

THE COURT: You met these other two boys in Los Angeles?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Met the other one, Jimmy McCarthy out in San Barnardino.

THE COURT: That was the American Boy?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: You have been with him ever since?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: Has he been the boy that has been leading you on, suggesting where to go and what to do?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: He said he was going back east, and we said we wanted to go.

THE COURT: Where were you going to?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I was going to stop in Salt Lake and look for work.

THE COURT: What does your father do for a living?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: He is a barber.

THE COURT: Does he know you are in this trouble?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I dont know. I wrote home.
