

THE COURT: Did you write and tell him you were in trouble here?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: Have you got a letter from him?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I got just a post card from my sister.

THE COURT: Does she know you are in trouble?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes. She didnt say nothing.

THE COURT: When did you first leave home?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: About three or four months ago.

THE COURT: You have stayed home all your life until then?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: Why did you leave home?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Just tired staying-- could not find any work, and thought I would leave for a while.

THE COURT: You had a good home?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Sure.

THE COURT: You havent been going to school?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Sure I have.

THE COURT: How far along in school have you got?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Lower Seventh.

THE COURT: When did your father leave Mexico?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Been out here for a long time.

THE COURT: Is he an American Citizen or still a Mexican?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: I dont know. I think he is a Mexican.

THE COURT: You stayed home until three months ago?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Yes.

THE COURT: Who did you start out with then?

DEFENDANT AGUILAR: Started out with another boy, but he got lost some place. They put him off the train.

THE COURT: Been riding box cars?