

Ogden, Utah, June 13, 1924.

To the Honorable, the Board of Pardons,
Salt Lake City,
Utah.

Gentlemen:

I respectfully petition your Honorable Body for a Parole of my sentence, which was imposed by Judge James N. Kimball of the District Court of Weber County, Utah, on November 5, 1923, for one year in the County Jail of this county, and I wish to say that I have served in the County Jail here and have made a good record, as you can verify by the County Sheriff, Mr. Pincock, and I feel that I have learned my lesson and that you will never have cause to regret giving my petition favorable consideration.

Briefly stated, I was convicted as an accessory after the fact; a school chum of mine who fell in with a stranger from Wyoming robbed a gas station of something like $50.00 and I permitted them to stay in my garage - I did not in any way participate in the holdup.

I am a machinist by trade and know that I could go to work and earn money, and become a self-supporting citizen.

Appreciating your favorable consideration of my petition, I am,

Respectfully yours,

Ira E. Brown
