

must be upheld.

But Your Honor. I am going to ask you, as a Father who loves his erring Son, as well as the rest of his children. If in the kindness of your heart, you might see fit to have my Boy released so that he may come back home to us and try to live down the past.

I am fully convinced that Robert will never be guilty of such a folly again. for he has wrote me