

and it is my firm belief that he must have got in with some awfully bad company to be in such serious trouble, as he is in now. Mr. Booker of the Haulin's Garage Co., my employer, has stated that there is a position with him waiting for Robert when he returns home; that is if you gentlemen after kind consideration of his case, may see fit to terminate his sentence. I sincerely hope that you may see fit to do so, that he may come home and live down the mistake that he has made. Trusting that your gentlemen in kindness will listen to my plea and that I will be able to see my brother in the near future.

I beg to remain ever
